Hazardous Activities and Industries List (HAIL)

Tasman District Council monitors contaminated sites. This property has a record of the following contamination risks. If the site or any adjacent site has been used for industrial, horticultural or agricultural purposes, we suggest you make further enquiries.

LIM Statement

This site is subject to the Resource Management (National Environmental Standard for Assessing and Managing Contaminants in Soil to Protect Human Health) Regulations 2011 (NESCSCS). This property is in the mapped area of historic orchard land and was subject to testing for pesticide residues in 2014. A report is on file. Any future change of use, substantial earthworks or subdivision may require a site investigation report pursuant to the NESCSCS regulations. Please note this report may result in the need for resource consent under these regulations.

Potential Lead Paint Contamination of Dwellings, Buildings & Land

Any specific information in relation to contamination will be contained in the HAIL part of the Property summary, otherwise the Council has no specific information in relation to this property.

Lead is a highly toxic substance that was a key ingredient in household paint. Any building or dwelling built before or during the 1960's is likely to have used lead-based paint at some time. Soil surrounding these buildings has potential to be contaminated by heavy metals contained in the paint. Landowners are responsible for ensuring the safe management of lead paint removal for protecting human health and the environment.

Wetlands

Council has no record of wetlands on this property.

Pest Inspection History

The Tasman-Nelson region has a Regional Pest Management Strategy for the control of declared pest plants, animals and organisms. The responsibility for the control of pests lies with the land occupier or owner. No pests have been recorded on this property.

Significant Native Habitats

Council has been compiling biodiversity reports (also called Ecological Property Reports or reports on Significant Native Habitats) for the past eight years and where these exist they are available. However, no report has been lodged on this property.
